

11-13 October, 2007 Roc d'Azur Fréjus, France

General information

The final round of the 2007 UCI BMX Supercross World Cup will once again be included in the classic Roc d'Azur cycling event. Since 1984 Roc d'Azur has grown to become one of Europe's largest Mountain Bike event and festival. In 2006, there were more than 14000 participants taking part in various events. The success of the Roc d'Azur which attracted last year more than 120 000 spectators, is linked to the choice and the variety of the events, bringing together at the same time the world's best and the amateurs.

From October 10th to 15th, Fréjus will live at the rhythm of the Roc d'Azur. Once again this year's event will play host to over 14000 competitors, add to that the 140,000 visitors who will be participating in the festival on the Base Nature at Fréjus - 80 hectares of countryside close to the ocean – and you have the largest mountain bike and cycling festival in Europe.
